The Iron Stallion

Nineteen Eighty Four

THE TALON

Cocalico High School
Denver, PA

TAKE TIME TO REMEMBER

There are times in everyone's life when they are faced with the pain, anguish and feelings of total emptiness associated with the loss of a friend. Unfortunately we have all been afforded this sad opportunity recently, when, on Saturday, July 2, 1983, Jesse Lynn Weitzel was killed in a car accident. Beyond what words can express, Jesse's death left us all with an oppressive void. Yet, after the initial shock, it is the good times we choose to remember: his easy-going, friendly manner; his warm smile, setting the school field goal kicking record; and, of course, the purple shirts. It is with highest degree of respect and honor that we, the Class of 1984, remember him in this yearbook.

However, we also want to remember three teachers who have devoted their lives to education. Rarely have there been so many teachers in the Senior High who have retired in the same year. The generations of Cocalico area students who have benefitted from the teaching of these three men are richer for having been in their classes.

Therefore, with both sadness and fond memories, we dedicate this yearbook to those who served our school. May the Talon be both a memorial and a beacon.

Harry Schaeffer, a driver education teacher for thirty years, has always taught at Cocalico. Because he likes the students, he never wanted to teach anywhere else. Mr. Schaeffer enjoyed coaching athletics and will follow Cocalico sports after he has retired. When asked what he would do if he had it all to do over again, Mr. Schaeffer responded, "I would teach at Cocalico." Mr. Schaeffer plans on doing much traveling during his retirement years.

Donald Peters started teaching Spanish 35 years ago at East Cocalico High School; he then taught at Cocalico Union and now at the present high school. Mr. Peters, who enjoys working with teenagers and watching their progress, always desired to be a teacher. His most memorable experiences were talking with former students many years after they graduated. He plans to spend time with his family and with his music and band after he retires.

As chairman of the Social Studies Department for eighteen years, Paul Gensemer hopes to travel, play golf, read, and work at a leisurely pace after retirement. Mr. Gensemer began teaching at the Greenville one-room schoolhouse. He has also worked at the Adamstown and Denver Elementary schools, and the Cocalico Union Jr. High school. His formal career will end at the Cocalico High School. He advises the students to take advantage of the many opportunities which exist for them.

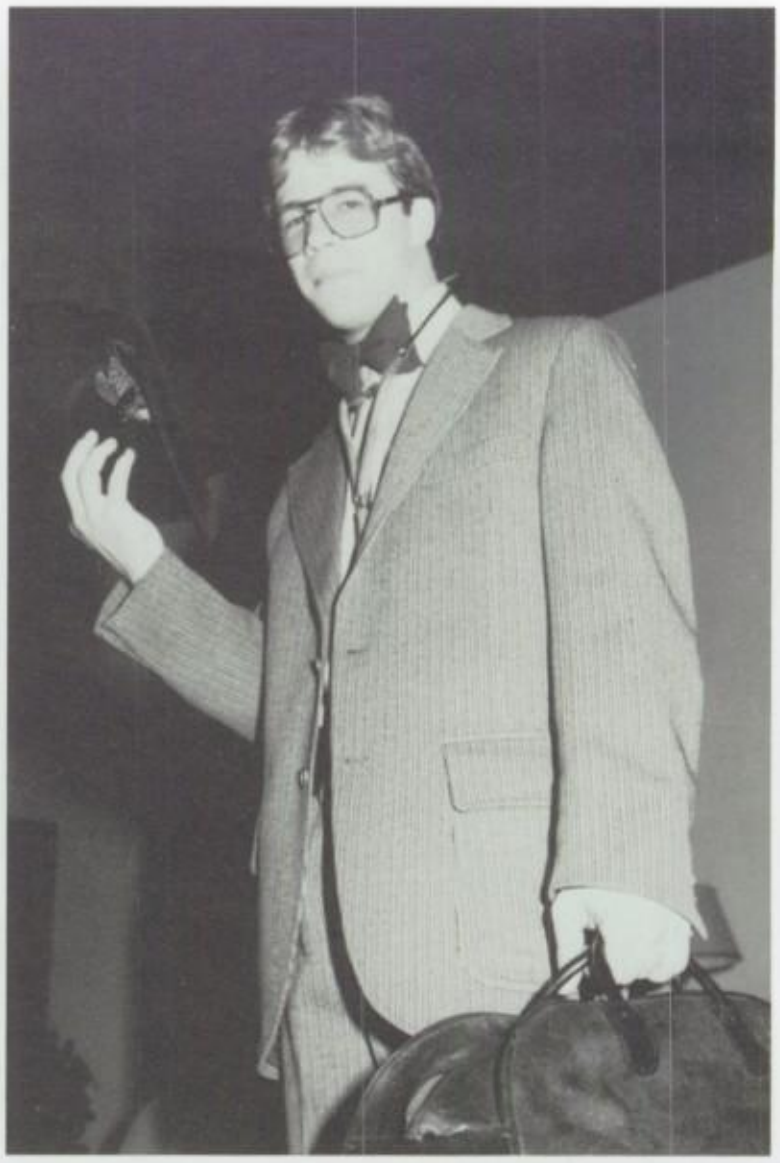
The lights and sound crew (above right) Amy Smaltz and Dave Raezer along with the promptresses (right) Deb Showalter, Marci O'Brassill and Jenny Garland aided director (above left) Steven Schwilk for the performances on November 11 and 12, 1983.



Cheaper by the Dozen, a three-act comedy sponsored by the Senior Class, tells the story of Mr. Gilbreth, an efficiency expert, and his twelve children. The comedy of the play is developed around the father's attempts to force his business practices upon his often unwilling family. Another source of comedy is his narrow-minded attitude toward some of the accoutrements of modern society, especially silk stockings.

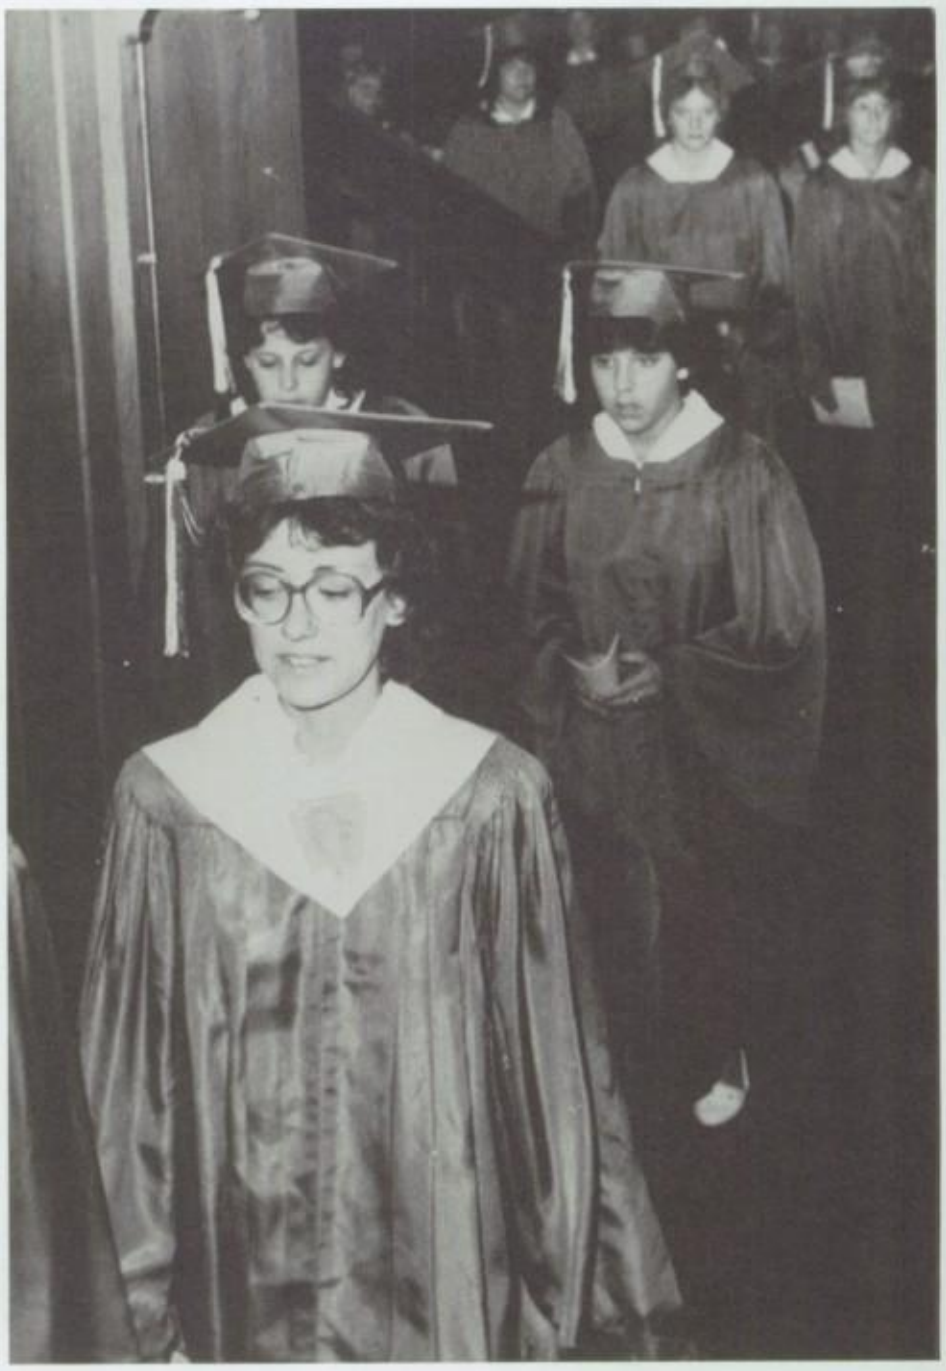
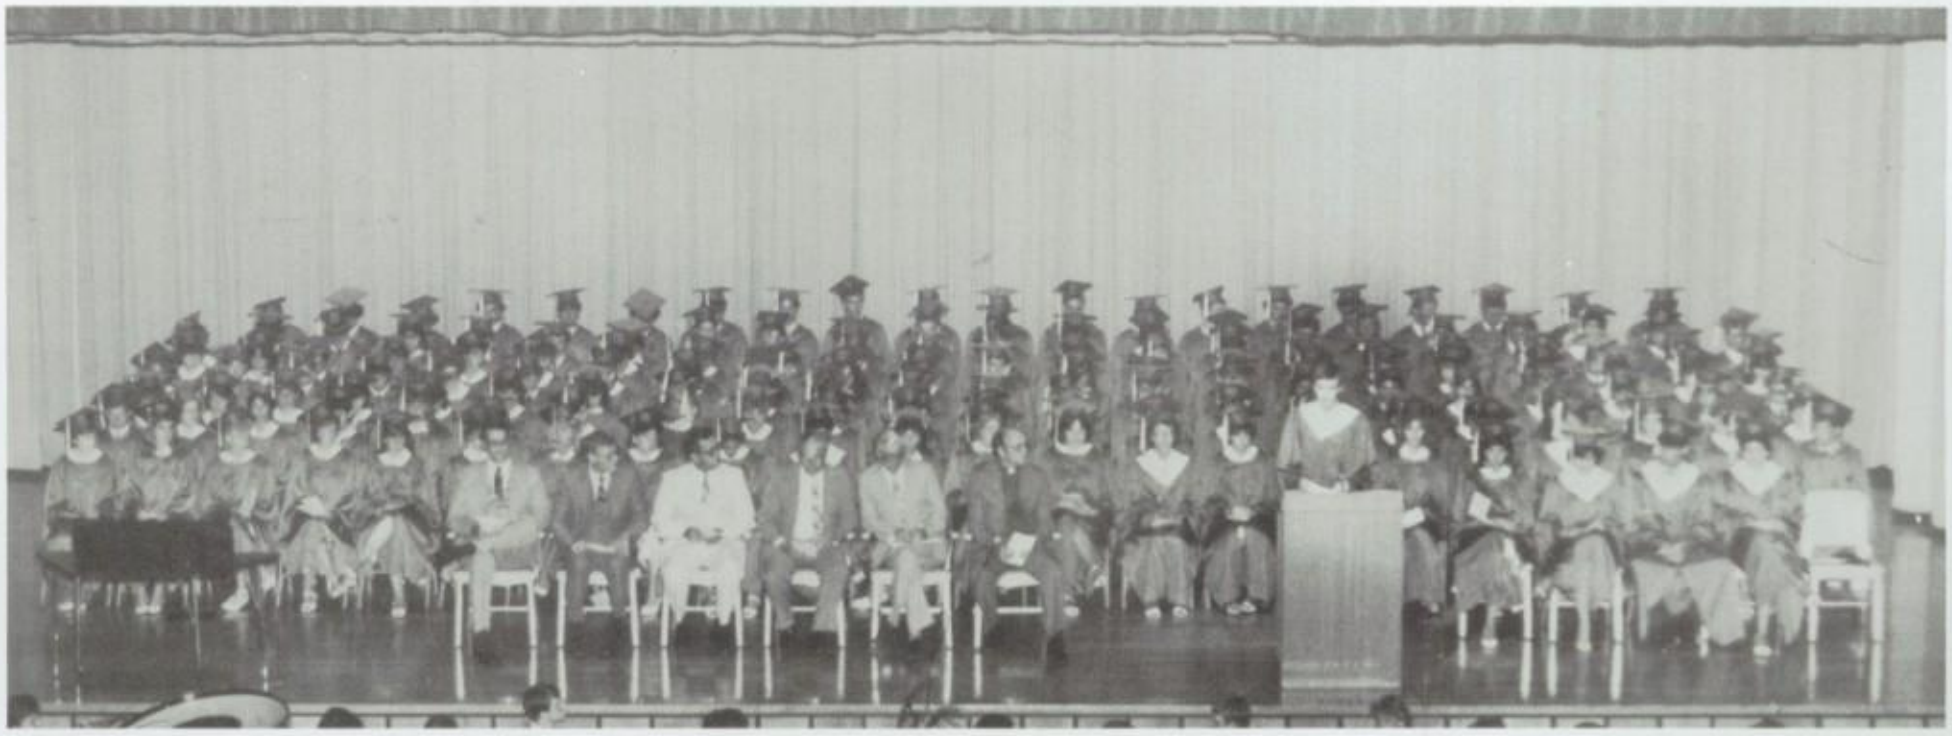
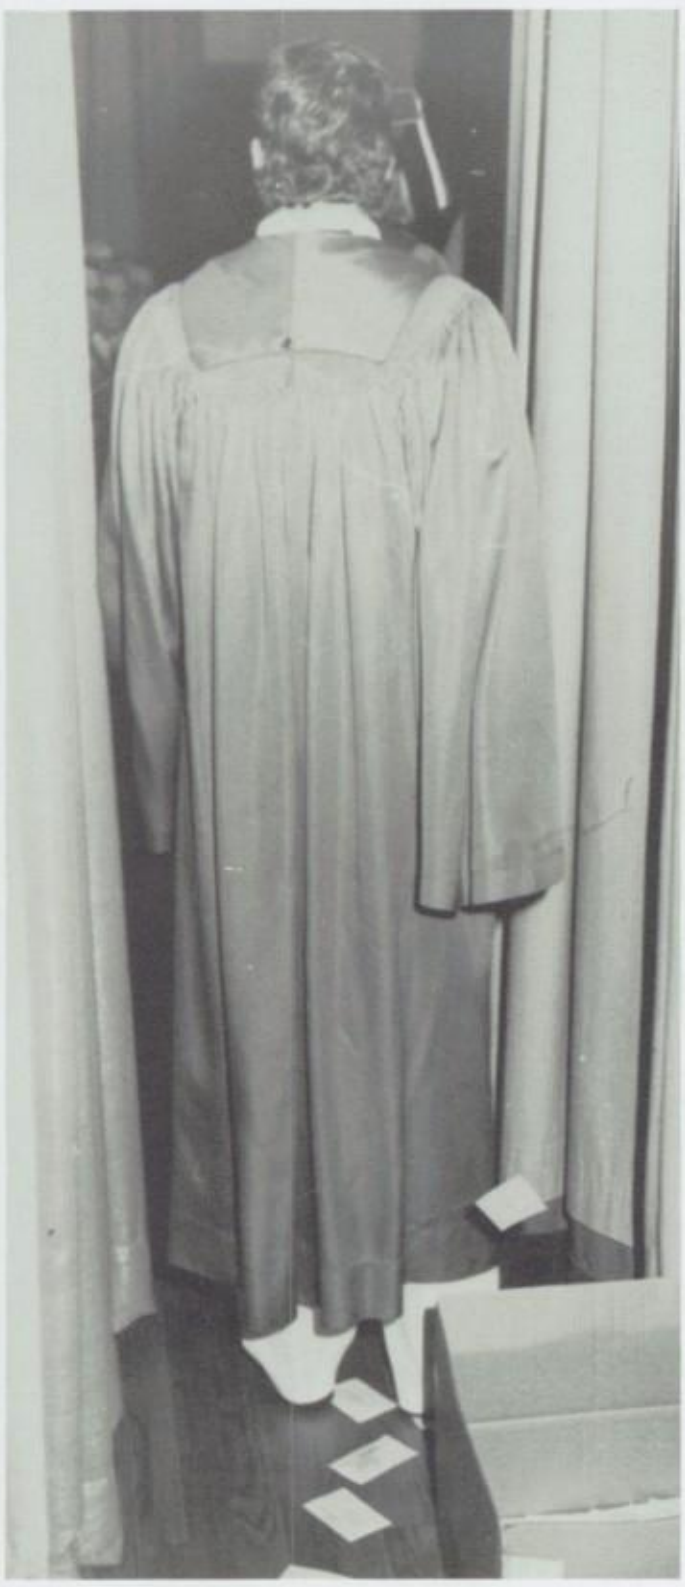
WORSHIP HELD FRIDAY

On Friday, June 8, 1984, at 7:00 p.m., the Baccalaureate Service was held in the Cocalico High School auditorium. Three pastors presided over the services: the Reverend Melvin Stehr, the Reverend Adam Weaver, and the Reverend Daniel Reiger. An ensemble composed of members of the graduating class sang a special number entitled "Pass It On."



157 STUDENTS GRADUATE





The Commencement ceremonies for the Class of 1984 were held on June 11. The program began with an invocation by the Reverend John C. Oliphant. Student speakers for the program were Jolene Haws, class president, Melissa Miller, Mark Youndt, Gina Miller and David Duty. The top male and female graduates were Mark Youndt and Becky Eberly.

The program included two musical selections. Missy Miller, accompanied by Jenny Fisher on guitar, sang "Road to Zion." The Senior Ensemble sang "The Times of Your Life."

As the diplomas were being presented by Mr. G. Sidni Schlegel, Jeff Rettew read the names of the graduates. Mr. Joseph Geesey read the names of the major award winners; Mr. Walter Pfeiffer recommended the graduates for diplomas; and Mr. Clifford Behrendt declared them graduates of Cocalico High School.

CLASSES

JUNIORS SPONSOR FUND-RAISERS

This year's Junior Class is the largest in the school. To raise money for the prom and next year's Senior Class trip, the Class of '85 sold ham on rolls and calendar towels. The class also sponsored a dance.

Struggling through chemistry and anxiously awaiting their first prom kept these juniors busy. This year's Junior Class play, Bull in a China Shop, was presented on March 2-3, 1984.

The class officers are Lori Ansel, president; Carol Weaver, vice-president; Stacey Kohl, secretary; Betsy Walmer, treasurer.

ACTIVITIES

FBLA HAS BUSY YEAR

Above: The FBLA officers who diligently devoted their time and efforts to organize the club are Cathy Weber, historian; Jenny Garland, reporter; Greta Moyer, vice president; Gina Miller, president; Lori Meckley, treasurer; Donna Ditzler, secretary.

The club was very active this year. They sponsored a Kiss-A-Pig contest and collected cancelled stamps to aid the state project, which was entitled "Project Everybody" for arthritis. The club raised a total of $703.72 and placed fifth in the state for this contribution.

The club had eleven members place at Spring Regionals and captured five firsts, one second and three thirds. The winners for the regional competition and their categories were as follows: Accounting I — Jenny Garland, 3rd place; Accounting II — Barb Wenrich, 1st place; Business English — Gina Miller, 1st place; Clerk-Typist I — Glenda Newswanger, 1st place; Clerk-Typist II — Carol Weaver, 3rd place; Public Speaking — Lisa Yost, 2nd place; Stenographer I — Donna Ditzler, 4th place; Stenographer II — Lori Wise, 1st place; Graphic Arts — Pam Walmer and Doug Ansel (team), 5th place; and Outstanding Chapter, 3rd place.

HOMECOMING ADDS A TOUCH OF CLASS

Saturday, October 22, holds many fond memories for these honored members of the court. Beth Hurst, the second runner-up, is escorted by Andrew Fetter. Missy Miller, the 1983 Homecoming Queen, is escorted by Gene Johnston, and Matt Leid serves as escort for the first runner-up, Dina Good.

The 1983 Homecoming Queen was selected by the entire student body after being nominated by the Senior Class. Pictured in the center of the page are the other members of the Homecoming court. Brent Wolf escorts a beaming Stephanie Patterson, while Jolene Haws is escorted by Randy Leid. To round out the court are Lisa Yost and Jeff Sauder.

STUDENTS PRESENT PLAY

This year the final production of the year was a one-act play presented in an assembly program. Because of a variety of conflicts, plans for an original longer play entitled Stages had to be scrapped. The play was directed by Steve Schwilk. Supplementary work was done by Nancy Anderson and Joe Doster.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY LEAPS TO 29

After the induction ceremony, where Mr. Pfeiffer gave the opening words and last year's members spoke on leadership, service, scholarship, and character, the 23 inductees were given their pins and certificates.

Pinning a boutonniere on the advisor, Ms. Nauman, is President Gina Miller.

The officers, Mike Schlegel, Secretary; Gina Miller, President; Lori Wise, Treasurer; Dave Duty, Vice President; patiently await the induction ceremony.

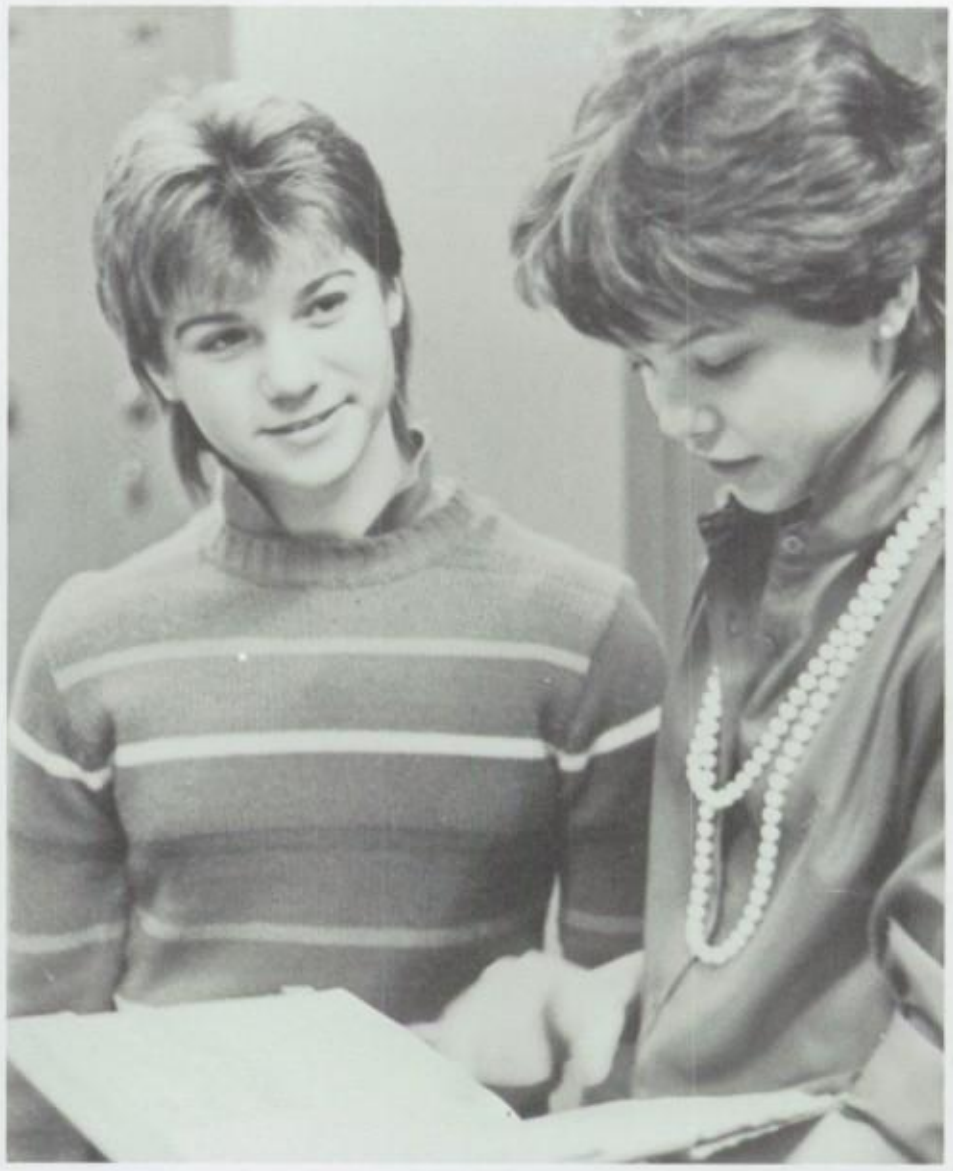
The Cocalico National Honor Society Advisor, Ms. Cynthia A. Nauman, feels that excellence in scholarship, responsible leadership, maturity of character and a record of service to school and/or community activities be recognized as worthy achievements. These qualities must be evident and maintained to be a member of the Honor Society. Membership in this organization is the highest academic honor a junior or senior can achieve while in high school.

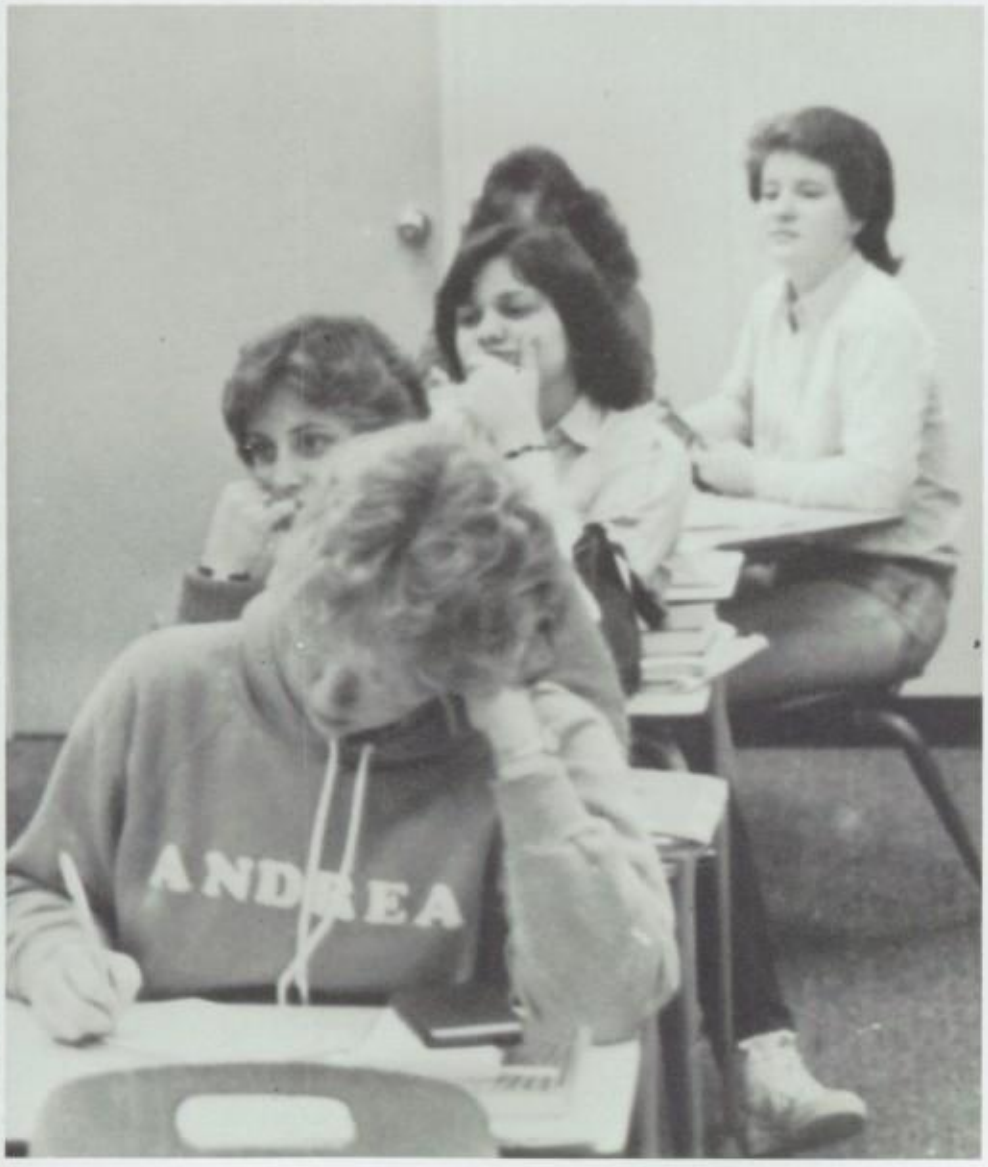
Indoor Guards Returns

The indoor guard returned to the court after two years' absence. They performed to "Thriller" by Michael Jackson, "Play the Game" by Queen, and "Running with the Night" by Lionel Richie. The guard consisted of four rifles, eight silks, and four runners. They were instructed by Miss Chris Burkholder and under the court direction of Michael Schlegel, captain, and Gina Miller, co-captain. Although this year was not successful in earning awards, it was one of learning, fun, and cooperation.

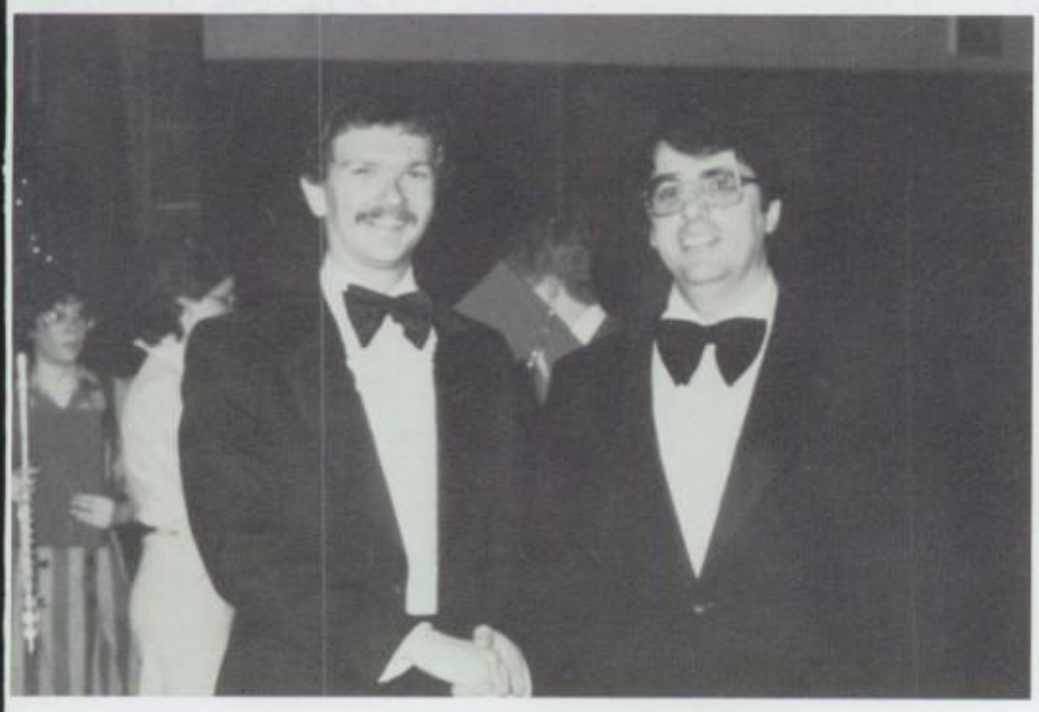
OFFICERS GUIDE COUNCIL

The Student Government sponsored a variety of activities this year including the Powder Puff game in the fall of 1983 and the Special Olympics this spring. Headed by President Joy Gerhart, Vice President Missy Miller, Secretary Laurie Snyder, Treasurer Christine Sloat, Sergeant-at-Arms Jenny Fisher, and Parliamentarian Wes Petery, the Student Government also had a student exchange program and selected a variety of assemblies.





FINE ARTS HIGHLIGHT SPRING

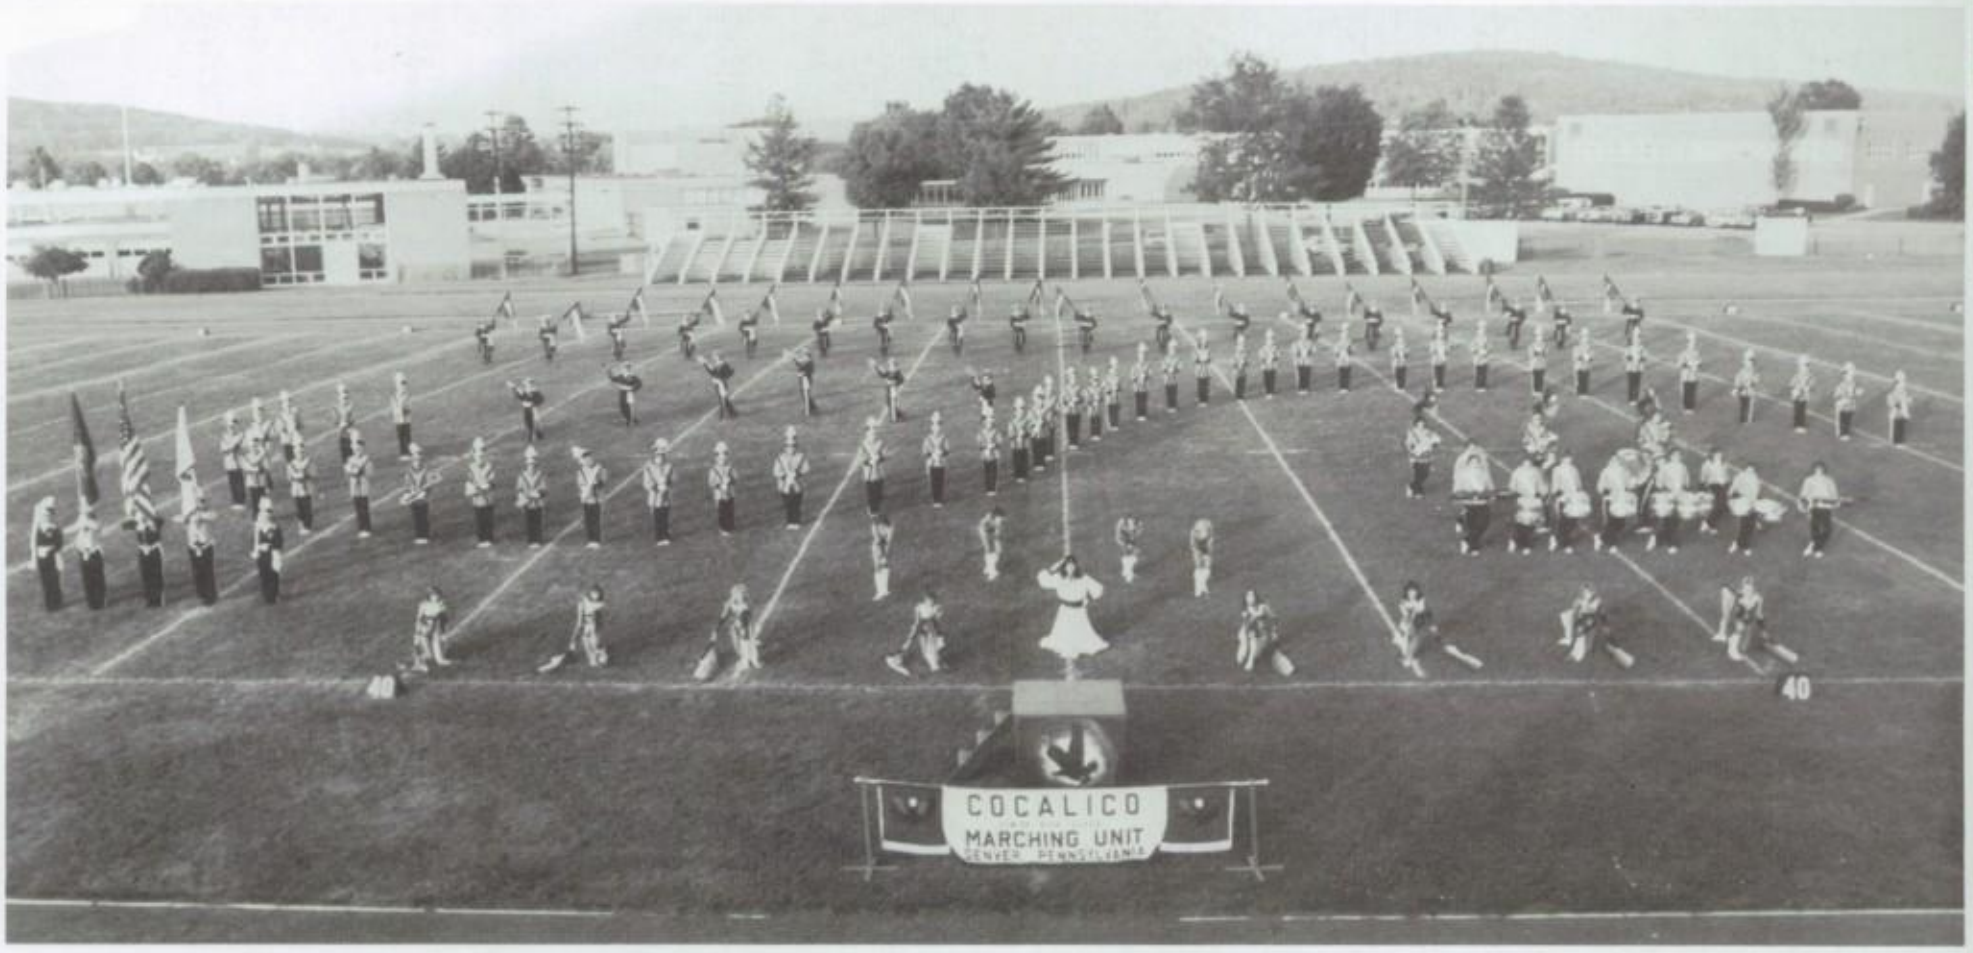


The Annual Spring Fine Arts Show and Concert was held on Thursday, April 5, 1984. The musical program featured the chorus and the stage and concert bands directed by Thomas Marino and Douglas Kulp, respectively.

The program opened with four selections by the stage band. Paul Mayhew was featured in "Misty" and Martin Hinkley played a solo in "St. Louis Blues." The chorus sang five selections and featured a solo by Greta Moyer entitled "How Am I Supposed to Live Without You." Accompanists for the chorus are Kim Fry, Eileen Leisey, Lenore Petery and Corine Raihl. The program concluded with seven selections by the concert band. The finale was a medley from Cats.

On display for people attending the program were art projects by art and graphic arts students. Nancy Anderson, Judy Davies and Joe Doster were the faculty members in charge of the art show.

BAND FEATURES SOLOS, DUETS, TRIOS



The 1983 marching band repertoire was set in motion by "Carmina Burana" and followed by "Emerald Eyes," which featured a tuba trio, a saxophone and trumpet duet, and a trumpet solo. "Washington's Post" was the concert number and "Memory," from the musical Cats, served as the perfect closer with a trumpet solo added to the list of features.

The caring and hard-working instructional staff were as follows:

Band Director	Douglas S. Kulp
Band Front Coordinator	Chris Burkholder
Silk Instructor	Lisa Buohl
Rifle Instructor	Tammy Fitzwater
Swing Flag and Majorette Instructor	Theresa Nolt
Music Instructors	Mark Schneiderhan
	Floyd Sweigart
	Tom Marino
	Shelly Taylor

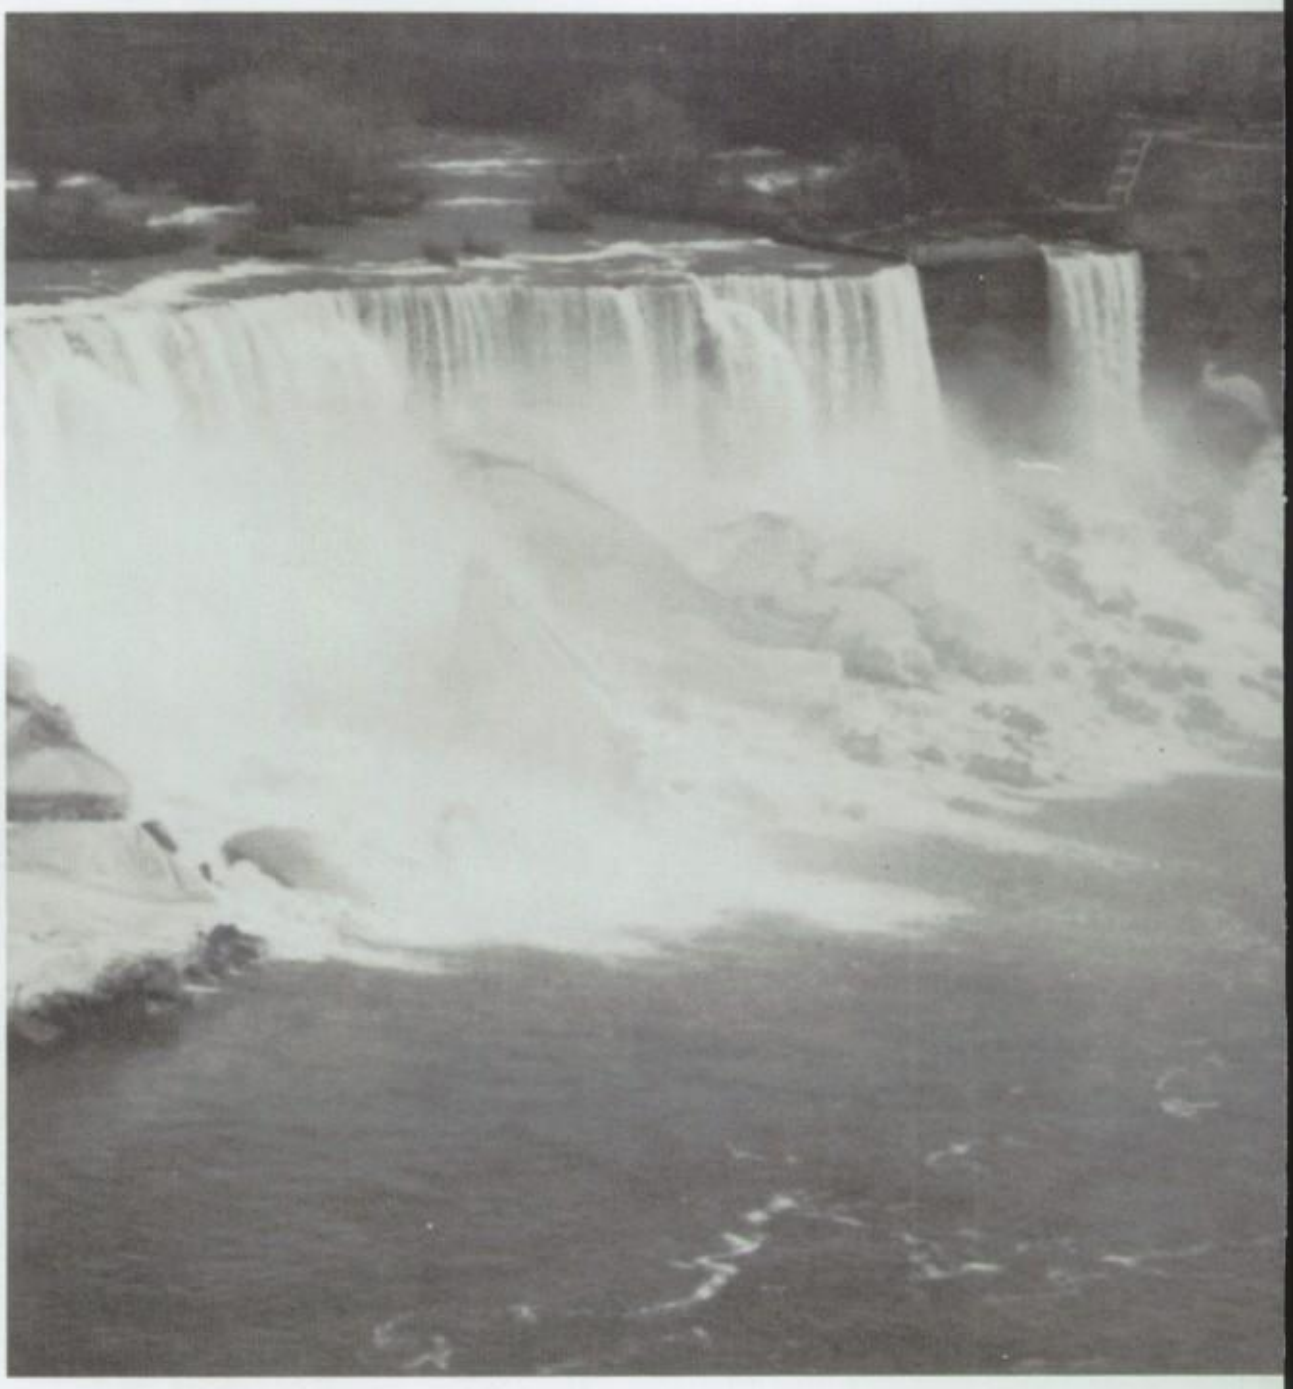
BAND VISITS NIAGARA

For this year's band trip the 1983-84 Cocalico Band visited Niagara Falls, Canada. After the many difficulties which befell the ride, they reached Canada. The band performed at Maple Leaf Village, where they received a trophy for a fine performance. They visited many interesting sites and returned home happy but exhausted.



SAMPLE THE BEST OF SUNDAE

What do gallons of ice cream, pony rides, a dunk tank, and chorus and band performances have in common? Put them all together, and you have the makings of the fourth annual ice cream social. On June 3, 1984, the Denver Park was transformed into the setting for the high school concert band, stage band, and chorus to show their stuff, while their audience got the chance to guzzle down ice cream sundaes. Concerts by middle school musical groups and various other activities rounded out the event by providing a "little something for everyone" and a very enjoyable afternoon.

MUSICIANS DISPLAY AMPLE TALENT

The Christmas Concert, held on December 18, 1983, began at 2 p.m. with the Stage Band. The stage band's performance opened with "Christmas Jazz Suite" and ended with "Silver Bells."

Next up on the entertainment list for the afternoon was chorus. Two performers displayed their special talent. Martin Hinkley, after his solo, performed a duet with Missy Miller entitled "Birthday of a King."

The concert band, after adding a different twist to things by playing "Russian Christmas Music," ended the program with an old favorite, "Home for Christmas."

After much hard work, chorus director Mr. Thomas Marino and band director Mr. Douglas Kulp led approximately 100 talented students to a fine Sunday afternoon concert.

CLUBS PROVIDE LUNCHTIME VARIETY

Many students and various teachers put in much effort and time during fifth period. The clubs enhance the students' school life by adding extra-curricular activities. The clubs range from the artistic and dramatic levels to clubs that are for the athletically inclined.

The clubs available to students are Intramurals, Leaders, Newspaper, Yearbook, FBLA, Student Government, Art, APBA, Computer, Drama, Football Club, Nutrition and Weight Control, Photography, Woodwork, Weight Training and Personal Fitness, Newspaper Printing, Peer Counseling, Wrestlerettes, Dungeons and Dragons, Home Ec. and Chess.

CEA STAGES VARIETY SHOW

The Faculty Variety Show, which consisted of episodes from The A-Team, Mr. Roger's Neighborhood and Richard Simmons, drew a large crowd. The show also featured insets from Solid Gold and a series of soap operas as part of the television theme used for the 1984 show.

Proceeds from the show will be used for the scholarship fund. Each year the Cocalico Education Association grants a sizable scholarship to a deserving senior who plans a career in education.

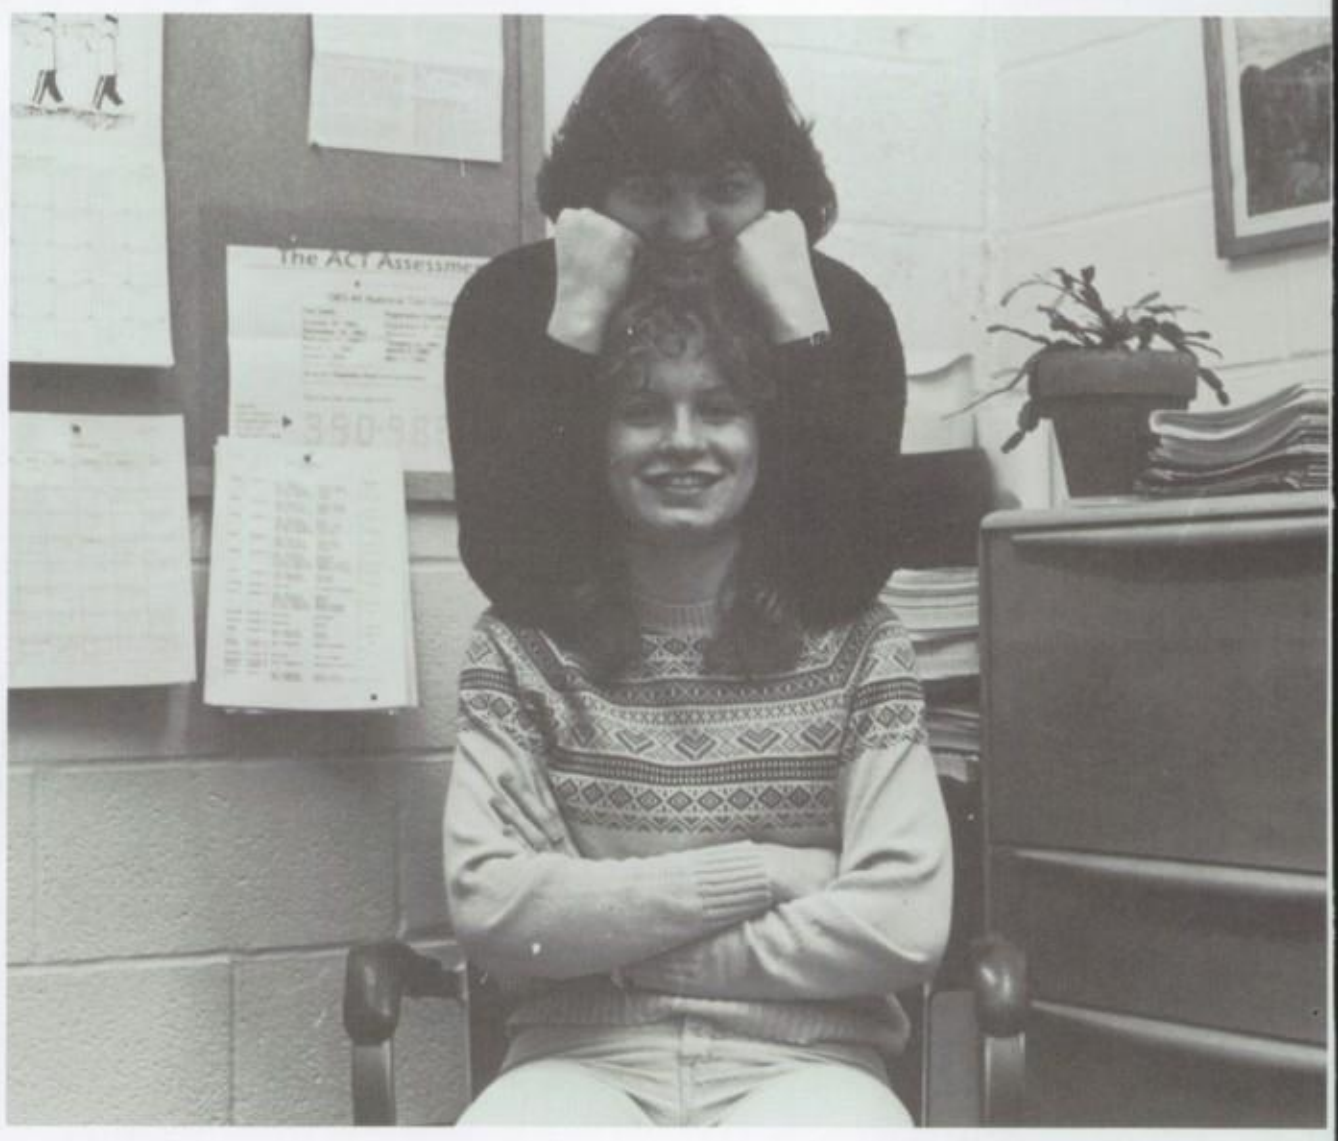
EUROPEAN STUDENTS VISIT

To give the students of Cocalico High some insight into their lives, the two exchange students wrote letters explaining differences and similarities between the U.S. and their home countries.



PIIA SILVENNOINEN

Hi, I am an exchange student from Finland. My hobbies are jogging, swimming, tennis, skiing and reading. I have learned a lot of new things since I came to the United States. Your school is different than ours, we have more classes than you have. In our school we have almost no clubs inside school. Our first foreign language starts when we are in third grade. Usually it is English. A school year in Finland starts August 18th and ends May 31st. Our Christmas vacation is the same as yours, but in Spring time we have one week off for skiing.

One thing that I miss is the sauna, which is everyday life for the Finns. Almost every family has their own sauna. We also have special dark rye bread called "ruisleipa," which I miss too.

People here seem to be very anxious about snow. To me it is kind of funny because to us it is so usual.

I like it here. I have learned how to eat peanut butter and lasagna. Also riding in a school bus was a new experience for me.

I will remember always people I met and time I spent in Cocalico Senior High. I'm sure that some day I will come back and visit you. I can't believe that I couldn't see you again. Piia

MARKUS GRIMMBACHER

I was born on February 23, 1967, in Crailsheim, a town in the South of West Germany. I've been in the U.S. since July 28, 1983. In summer, 1982, I decided to become an exchange student. I like it so far pretty much here in the U.S. I went to the school in my town for ten years (since 1973). I'm very interested in music. I love to swim and to play instruments. I play the guitar, the drums and the piano; I started playing drums and piano here in the U.S. Another reason for me to come over here is to learn your language better, which I studied in Germany already for five years.

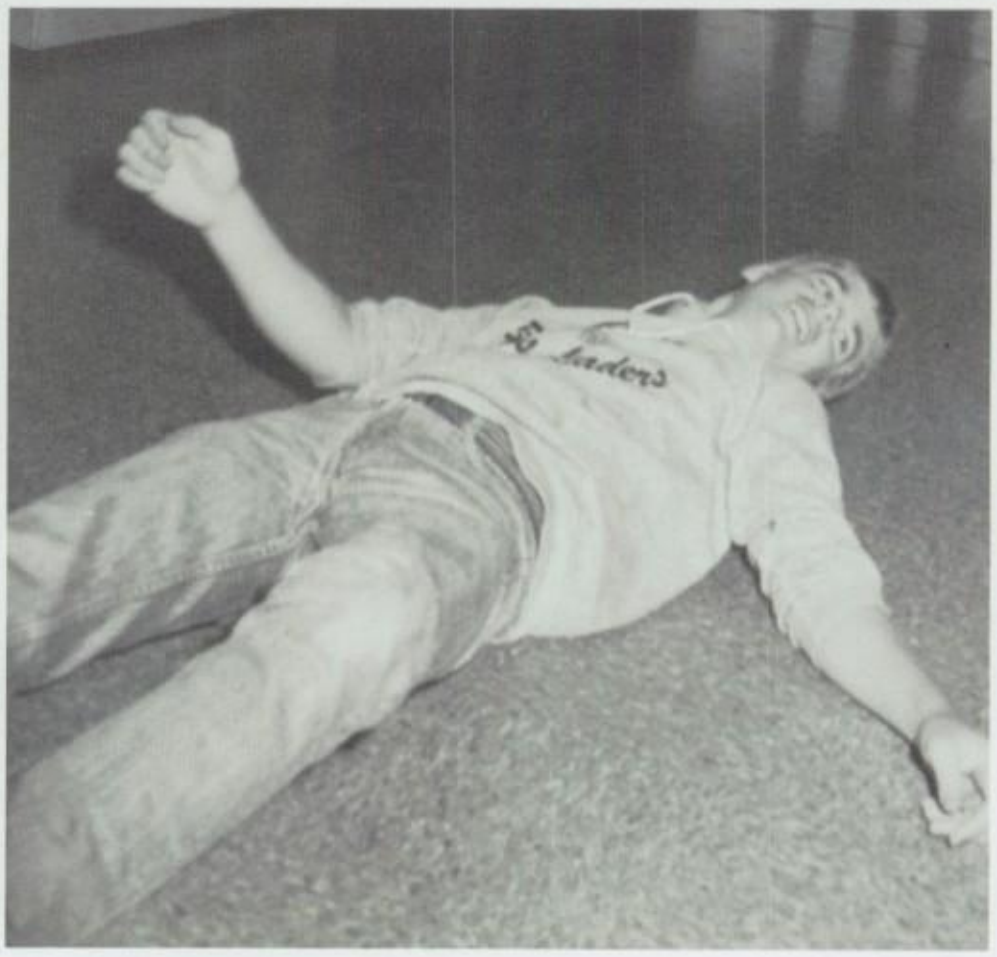
SENIORS WIN POWDER PUFF 14-ZIP

The senior girls led by Liz Glass, Dee Dee Windham and Lori Moyer with some top-notch blocking by Gina Miller, Laurie Snyder, Missy Mohn, and Beth Hurst held the underclass team scoreless. The team was spurred on by a questionably lovely but definitely different bevy of cheerleaders.

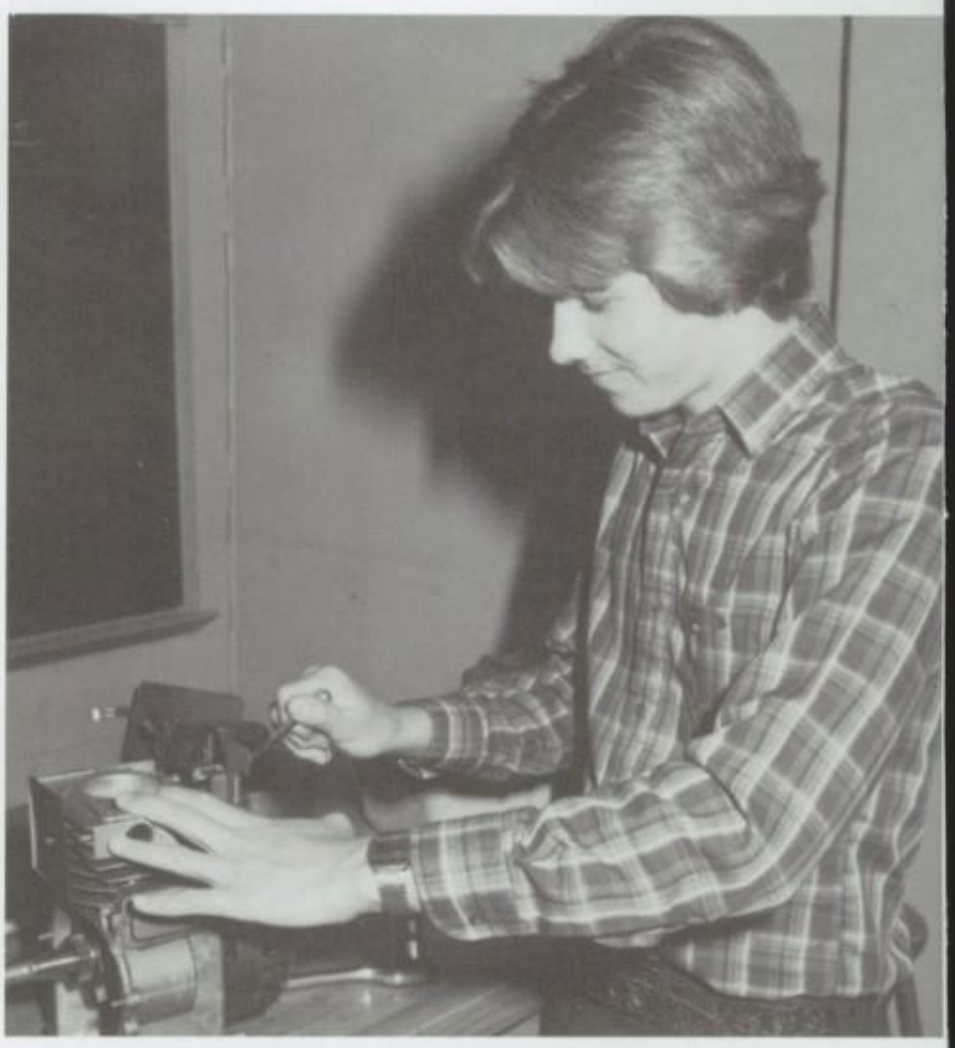
INTRAMURALS RECEIVE PRAISE

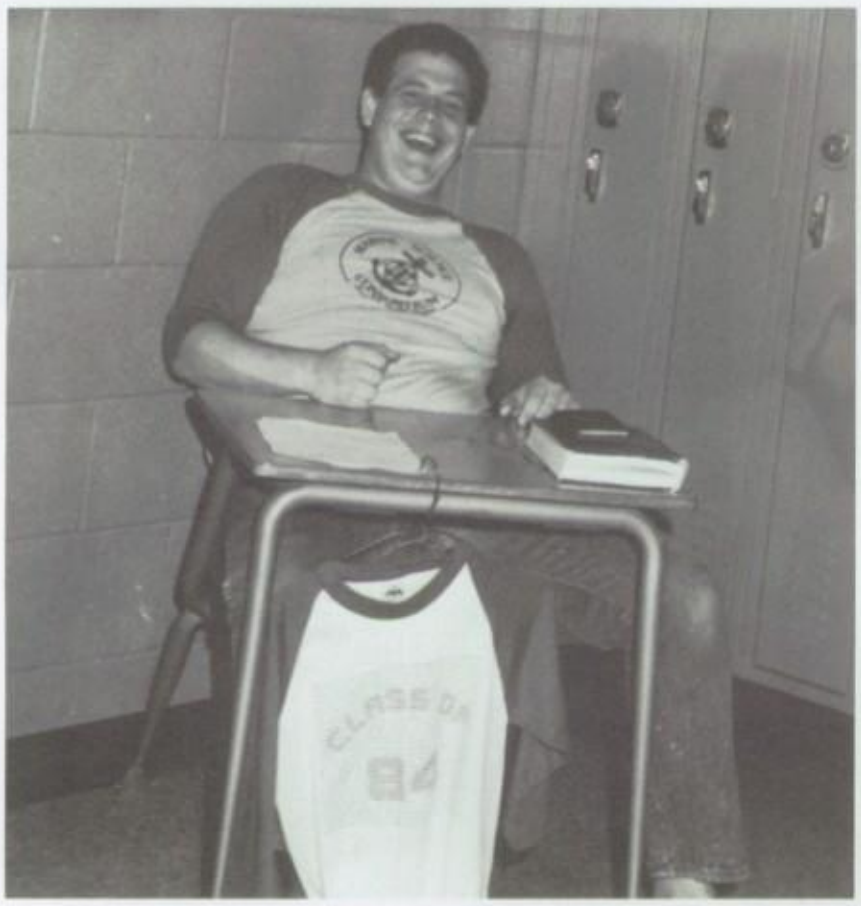
Cocalico continues to be unique in our lunchtime intramural program. When the Middle Atlantic States evaluation team visited in October, they commended the district on the quality of the program. Mrs. Wood and Mr. Orwig, assisted by members of Boys' and Girls' Leaders, offer a program which gives students a chance to break away from the routine of classes and study halls. Many students were involved in the following various sports: flag football, hockey, soccer, archery, handball, volleyball, ping pong, badminton, basketball and softball. At the end of an intramural period, students sometimes feel a delightful exhaustion as seen on the facing page.

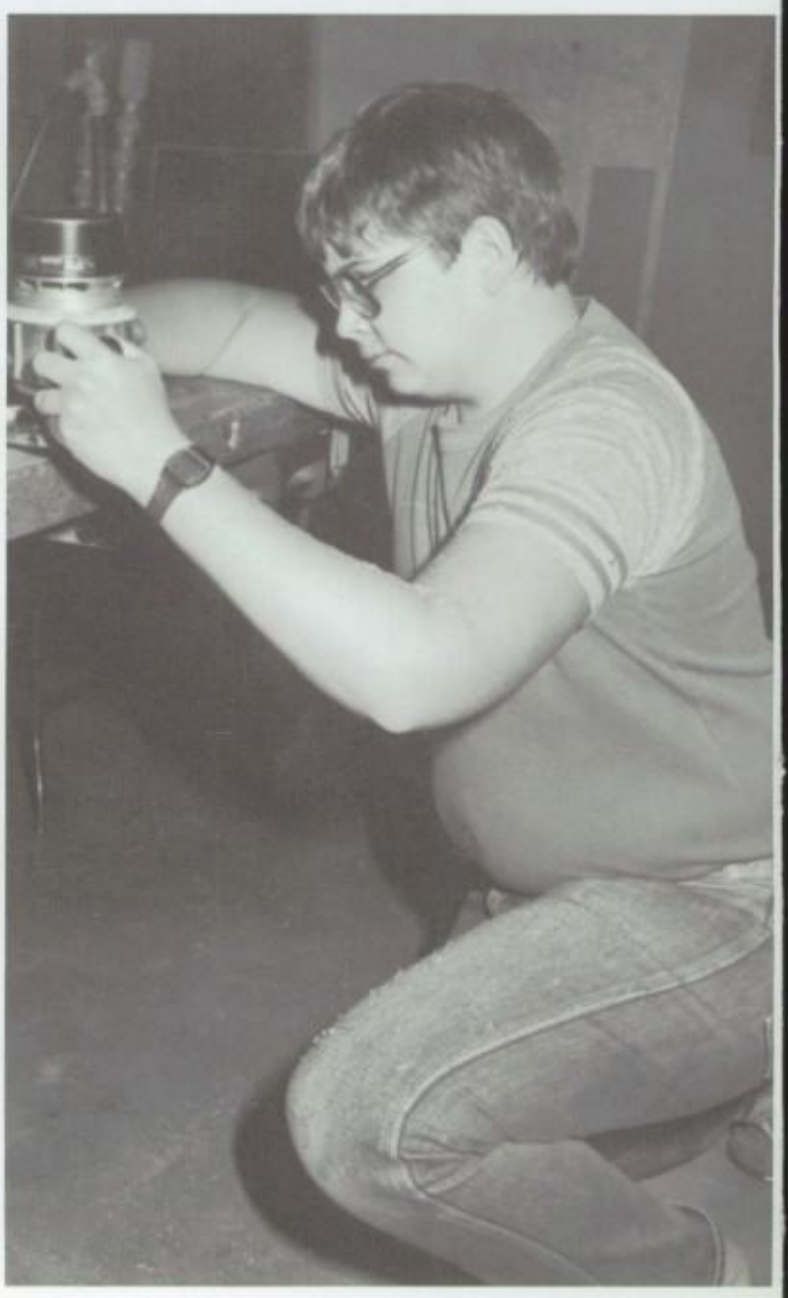
At the conclusion of most team activities, playoffs are held to determine winners in each sports activity. Since most of this year's winners are seniors, the playoff champs are pictured in the senior section of the yearbook. Other intramurals are included in the activities section.



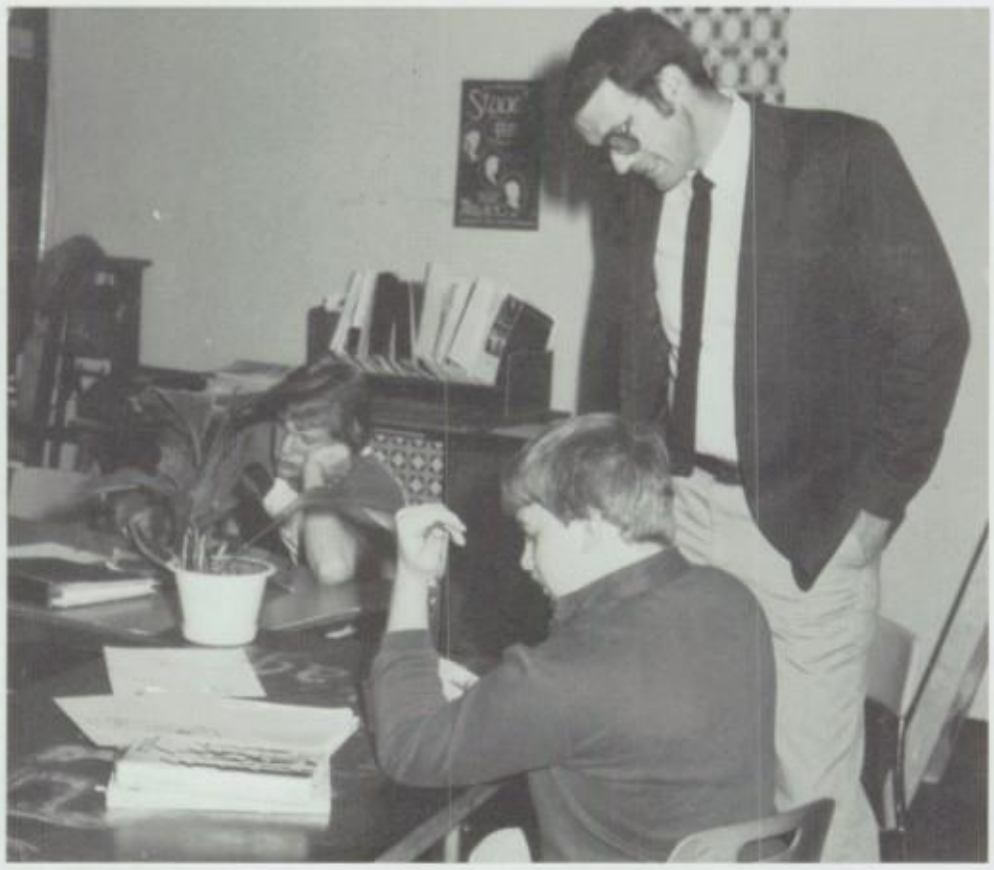
OTHER CLUBS ARE OFFERED







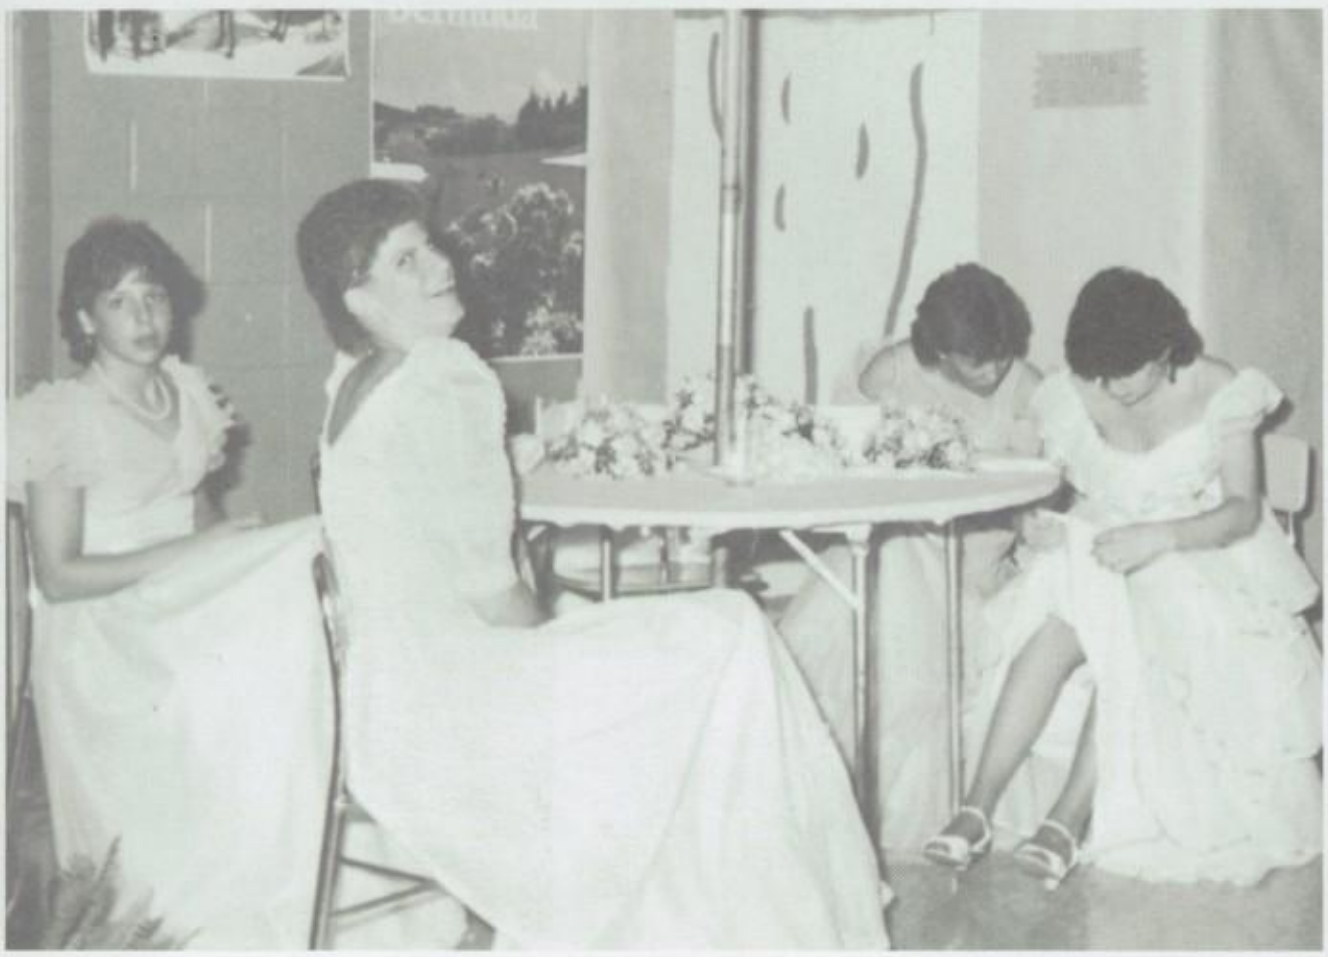
In an attempt to give better coverage to Cocalico's extensive club program, the yearbook staff is offering this further look at some of the lunchtime club activities.



PROM USES CRUISE THEME

This year the students of Cocalico and their dates went on "A Cruise to Enchantment." The prom committee transformed the cafeteria into a luxury liner complete with a spraying fountain and lighted anchor. The entertainment was performed by "The Trees."

This year's King and Queen were Steph Patterson and Brad Fichthorn; the court was Stephanie Eisenbise, Mark Youndt, Dina Good, Andy Fetter.



ANOTHER ONE BITES THE DUST

Two elderly women were poisoned on the Cocalico High School stage this year. The Junior-sponsored play, Bull in a China Shop by C. B. Gilford, was performed March 2 and 3 by a group of promising, young actors and actresses. The action centers around a boarding house for old women at 909 Sycamore Street. Dennis O'Finn is a dashing detective whose only crime throughout the entire play is living across the street from a bunch of lecherous old women.

The "old bats" made their appearance in the following order: Amantha, a holy roller, prays daily that she will someday be interrogated by her beloved Mr. O'Finn. Elizabeth, who could drink anyone under the table, is a grouchy old woman who becomes the first victim. Always swooning, Birdie, a fiesty, hunchbacked dame, is the oldest of the female boarders. A stuffed animal freak, Nettie has no brains; therefore, she becomes the second victim. Hildegarde, the owner of the boarding house, is an overbearing woman with a soft spot for Dennis. Always seen with her knitting, Lucy is an extremely opinionated old lady whose comments are sometimes snide.

The wonderful O'Finn is assisted by Detective Kramer, a clever cop who knows why the old women are killing each other off but, without proof, can't do anything. Two people hardly seen but very important are the stretcher bearers. They faithfully carry out the victims. The adding of the toetags during the Saturday performance was ingenious on their part.

Another key performer is Jane Rogers, a flirtatious reporter who also falls for Dennis. Jane gets hers in the end with a rpesent of poisoned candy from Miss Hildegarde. Johnson, the moustached fingerprint taker, struggled valiantly with the old women. After a word from O'Finn, he had no problem with the women. In the end Miss Hildegarde's dream comes true, as she is arrested and taken to jail by her hero Mr. O'Finn.

The play was a success thanks to the coaching and friendliness of the director, Mr. Mitch Hummel, and the cast, whose ability to get along with each other made it easier to put together.

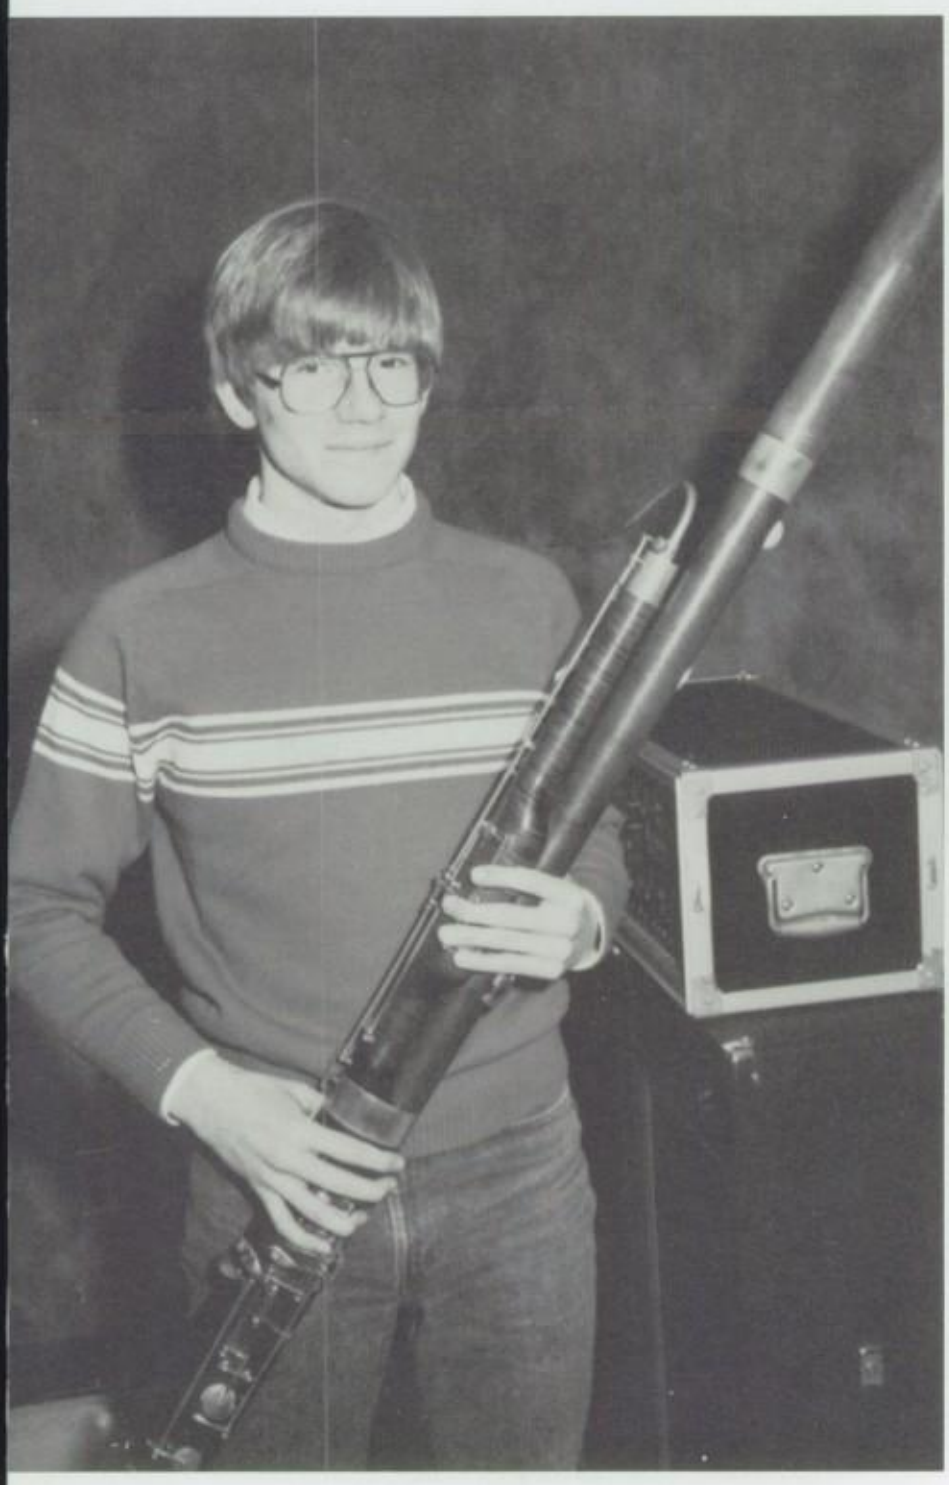
STUDENTS ACHIEVE EXCELLENCE

As a yearbook staff, we want to recognize the talented students who have achieved success in many areas. Many times these students are the unsung heroes who deserve but are not given proper recognition.

Top: These two super sewers, Shirley Burkholder and Betsy Royer, placed first in their respective contests, tailoring and general sewing. The contest was sponsored by the Denver Women's Club.

Bottom: These artists were featured each month of the school year. Row 1: Greg Daub, Kevin Frederick, Curt Eberly, Doug Reimel. Row 2: Gayle Steffy, Veronica Rabold, Kim Hollinger, Jacquie Young, Chris Martin. Standing: Lori Fry.



Top Left: Kim Youndt and Betsy Walmer competed in swimming on the District and State levels. Kim placed 6th in 100 backstroke at Districts. Betsy followed Kim with a 7th and also a 4th in 100 butterfly. At States, she ranked 11th in the 100 backstroke competition.

Bottom left: Paul Mayhew, an accomplished musician, achieved what no other Cocalico student has done: He competed in State Orchestra.

Bottom Right: Dave Raezer and Richard Hackman devoted much of their time and effort to help in many stage productions throughout the year.

MOYER PACES GIRLS' TEAM

The 1983-84 year was a series of ups and downs for the girls' basketball team. Jackie Ulrich was exclusively selected to represent Cocalico on the all-star team in the Christmas tournament. With the encouragement of their captains, Pam Walmer and Lori Moyer, the team was able to withstand the competition with good spirits.

LESHER CAPTAINS SQUAD

The captain of the 1983-84 varsity cheering squad was Hope Lesher. The cheerleaders themselves believed that their versatility, well performed mounts, and partner stunts were their strong points this year. This being her last year for coaching, Mrs. Wood hopes the cheerleaders will continue to represent Cocalico as well as they have done in the past.

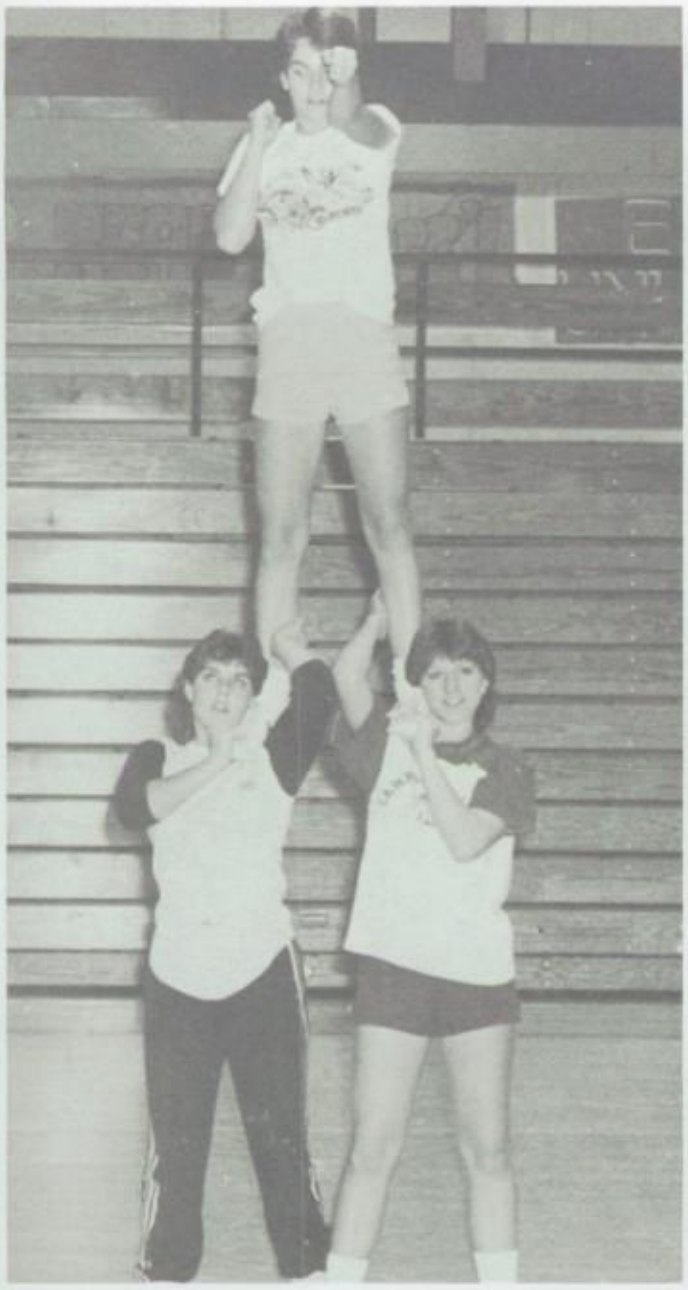
This year's school mascots were Missy Miller, Andy Fetter, Lisa Kopp, Pam Walmer. The coaches were Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Good.



These talented JV cheerleaders cheered on the JV teams and assisted the varsity cheerleaders. Row 1: Judi Stoner, Lisa Gensemer, Diane Gonzalez. Row 2: Christi Eisenbise, Wendy Kulp, Terrie Gehman, Sherri Leid.

HOCKEY BATTLES WAY TO DISTRICTS

The varsity hockey team finished the season with a 8-5-2 record. The members are Row 1: Theresa Mozeliak, Karyn Wager, Lisa Yost, Heidi Enck. Row 2: Carol Weaver, Brooke Walker, Lisa Gensemer, Tracie Fitzwater, Tina Sweigart and manager Connie Pannebecker. Row 3: Lisa Calibeo, Jolene Haws, Tracey Franck, Kathy Lied.

The hockey team, containing five seniors, two of whom are the co-captains at right, Karyn Wager and Lisa Yost, was coached by Mrs. Audrey Stoner. After much hard work the team competed in Districts but was defeated (2-1) in the quarter-final round by Holy Name.

FOOTBALL TEAM REACHES DISTRICTS

This was an outstanding year for the football team, with an 8-2 season record. They entered the first round of district play against Littlestown. The hard work and effort contributed to the success of the season. Next year's season will benefit from the experience the underclassmen gained.

The statistics were kept by Kathy Leid, Lisa Witmer, Holly Treier and Carol Weaver.

IN STATE COMPETITION

The golf team compiled a season record of three wins and nine losses. The team was led by senior Pam Walmer, a four-year letter winner. This year, for the fourth year in a row, she qualified for state competition. At States she finished thirteenth out of approximately 70 competitors. The golf team has many promising underclassmen and will keep on swinging.

TEAM KEEPS STEADY PACE

This year's varsity softball team was primarily made up of returning players from the year before. The team captains were Pam Walmer and Lori Moyer. "They moved at a nice steady pace which was held together by the excellent pitching staff and a good arm behind the plate," said Coach Stoner.

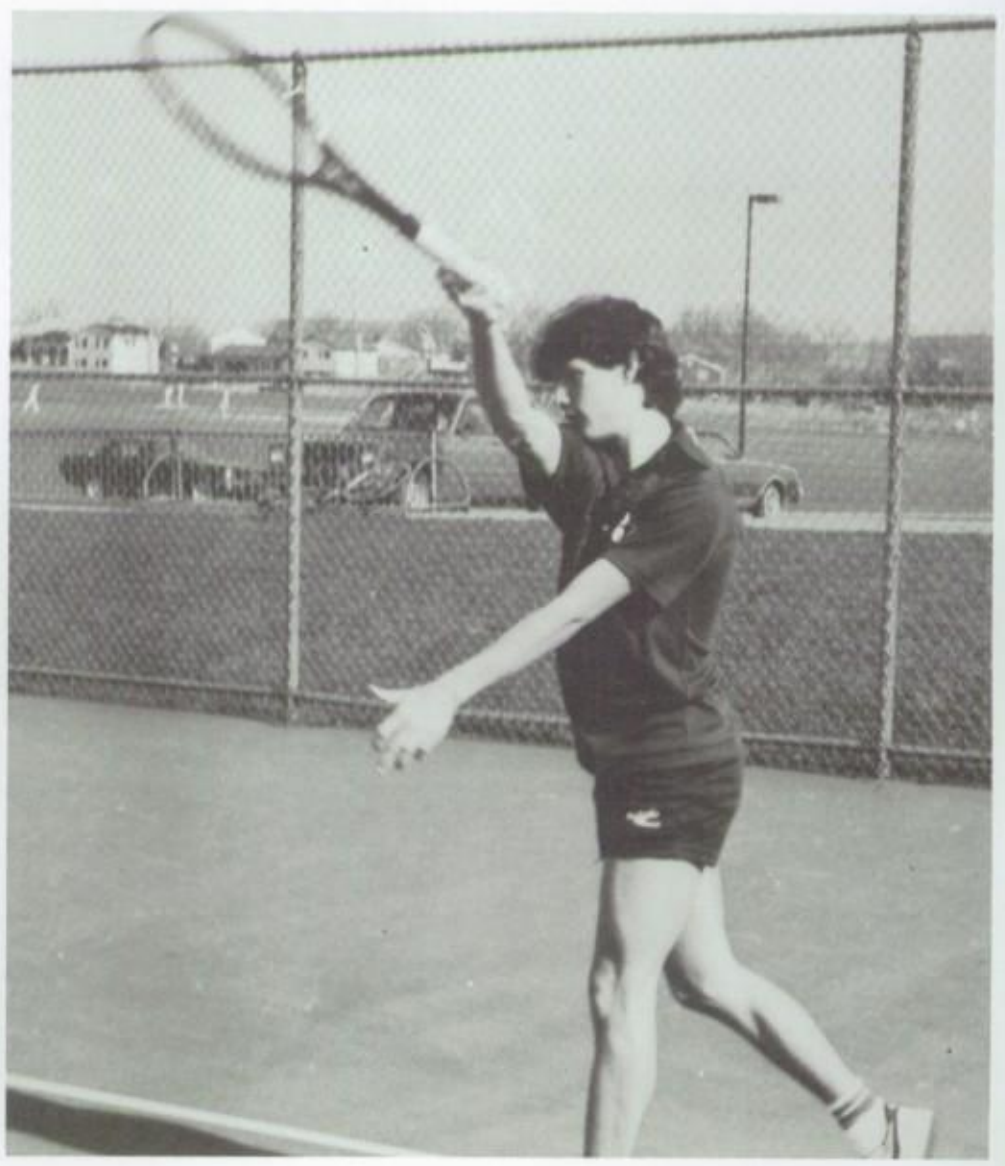
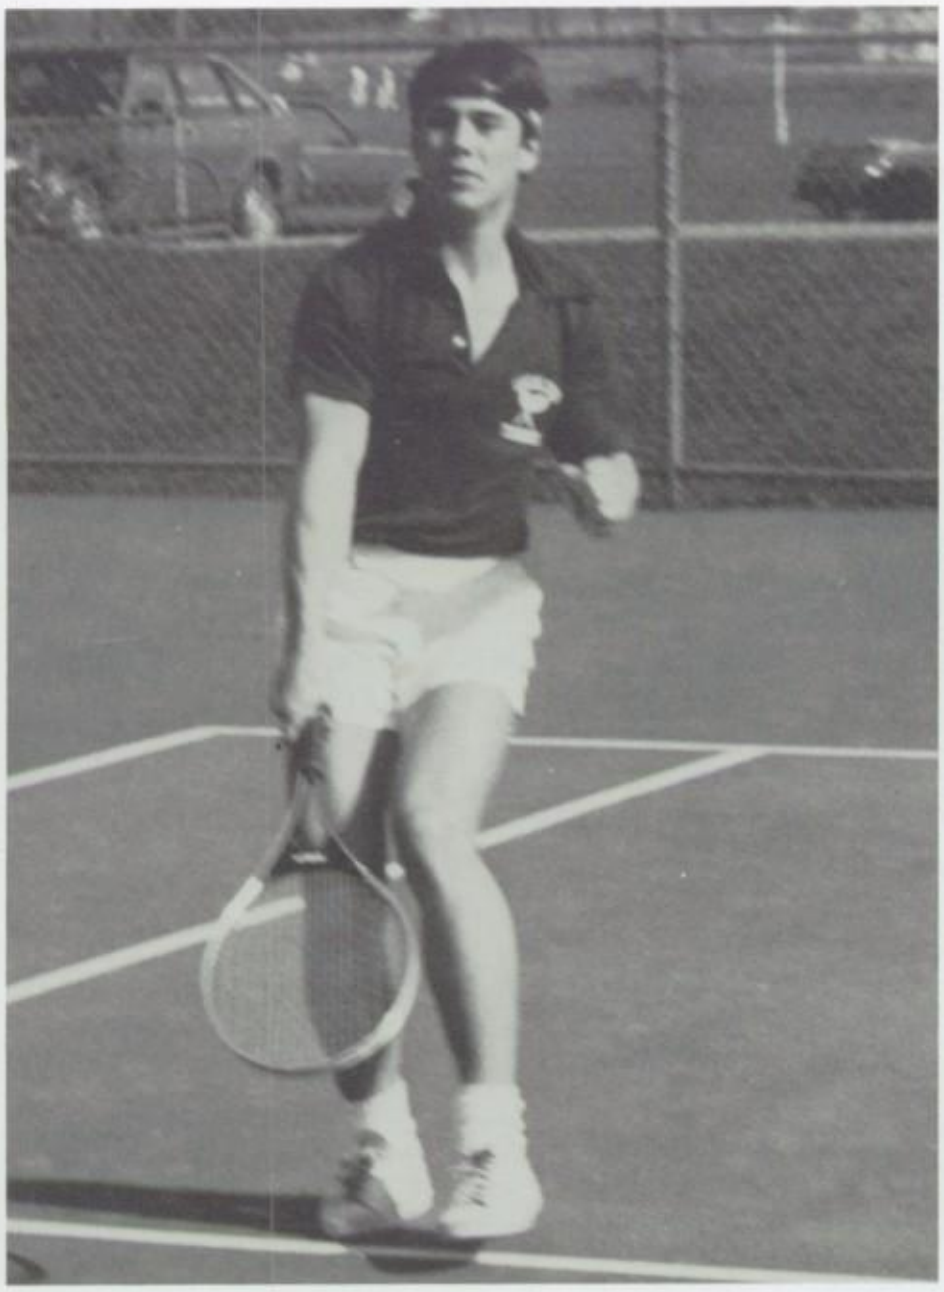
TEAM BUILDS FOR FUTURE

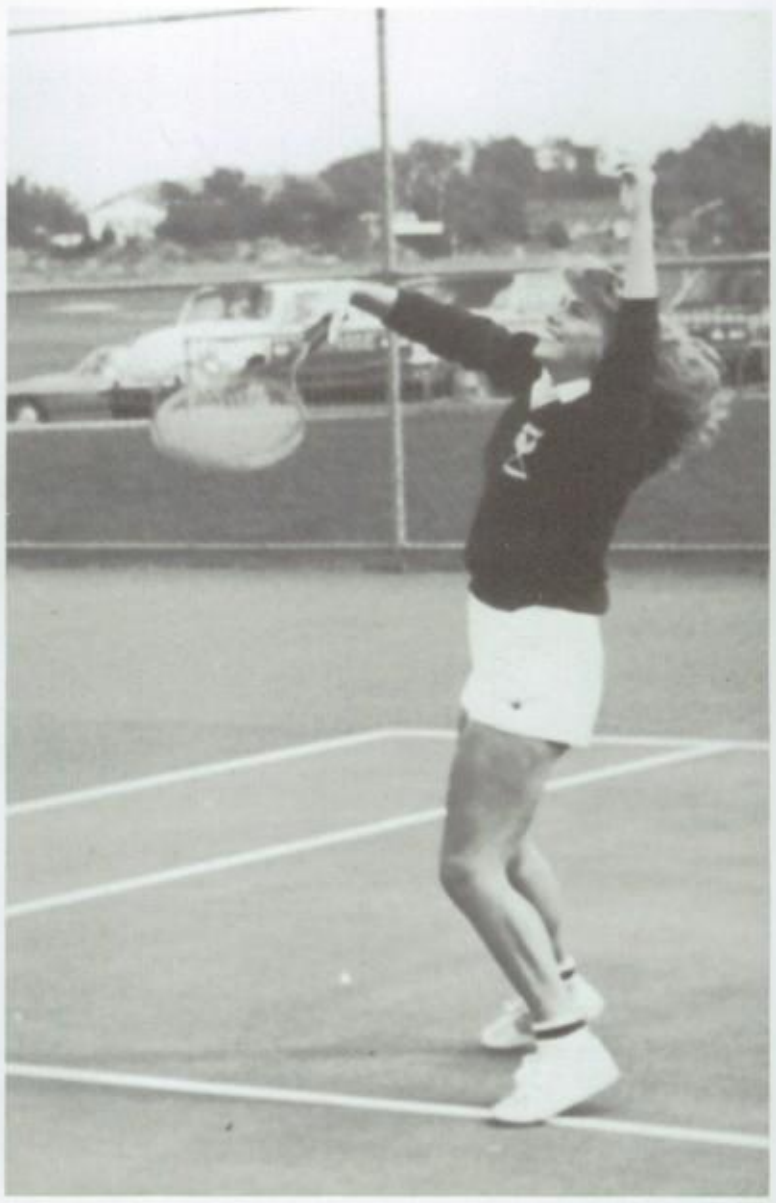
Row 1: Dave Woods, Joe Goodall, Wes Petery, Bounhack Chommany, Steven Boyer. Row 2: Jeffrey Speicher, Grant Riegel, Brent Bearinger, Dean Lied, Merrill Arbogast, Chad Evans, Mike Wetherhold.



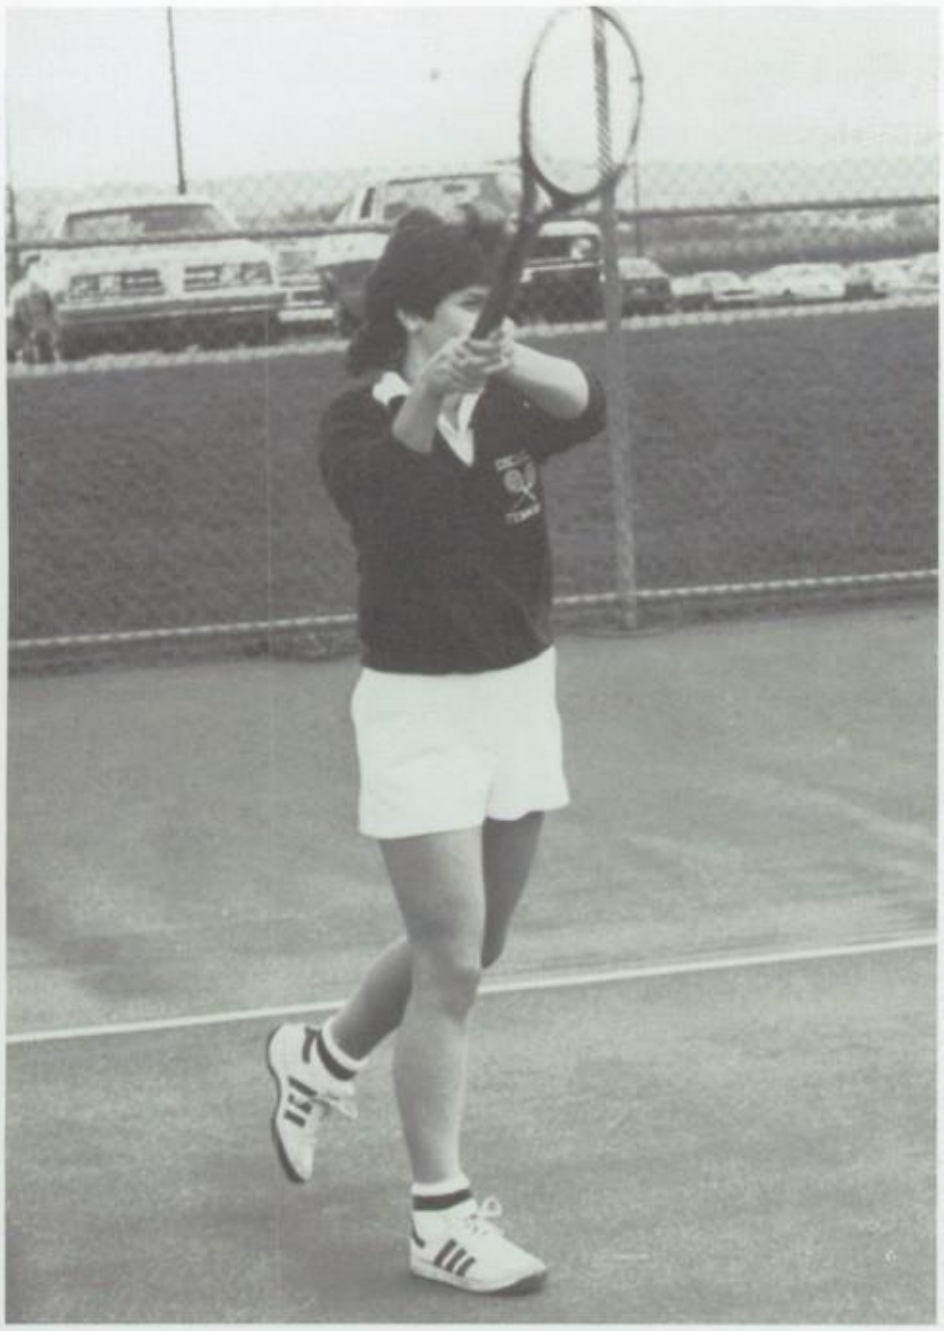


The balanced strengths of this year's tennis players led the team to a five win-six loss season. Coach Schwilk stated that the only weakness in the games was the absence of key players due to illness and foul weather. The team leaders were Dean Leid, Brent Bearinger, Grant Riegel, and Trey Rhyne.

TENNIS TEAM VOLLEYS A 9-3 SEASON



Above is the girls' tennis team, which compiled a season record of nine wins and three losses: Row 1: Amy Franck, Liz Glass, Sandy Beiler, Barb Meckley and Lori Meckley. Row 2: Manager Shari Rabold, Lisa Gerhart, Sheri Leid, Raeanne Redcay, Cindy Porter, Lisa Kopp, Christie Purcell, Daphne Zimmerman, Sue Meckley, and Coach Denise Beard.



The girls' tennis team sported a nine to three record and were represented in District Play-offs by Barb Meckley and Lori Meckley, competing in the doubles tournament. After upsetting the second seed in districts, they rallied on to the quarter finals, where they were eliminated.

Overall, the team placed second in the section having lost only one match. They were led by Barb Meckley, Lori Meckley and Liz Glass, who held respectively, the first, second and third ranks on the team.

INDIVIDUALS EXCEL

This year was a record breaking year. Mike Lehmeir set a new school record for intermediate hurdles with a time of 41.6 seconds. The 1600 relay team comprised of Ken Bennetch, Mike Lehmeir, Dave Schlegel and Chris Weik also set a new record. Senior John Snyder contributed to broken records by setting a new pole vault record.

FOUR JUNIORS LEAD WRESTLERS

Although the wrestling team had a "disappointing win-lose season, the underclassmen matured well."

Four juniors, in particular, David Schlegel, and Brian Gehman, the team leaders, along with Dennis Weaver and Allan Campbell were great surprises. They took their losing records from last year and turned them around to make them winning ones.

"Next year has to be an improvement," says Coach Helter.

STAFF HAS HECTIC YEAR

This year's staff worked diligently to meet their deadlines and produce The Talon. Besides regular activities, they sponsored the Crystal Christmas Cotillion. The Editor-in-Chief is Gina Miller, Co-Editor-in-Chief is Becky Eberly, and Assistant Editor is Carol Weaver. Lori Wise is the Business Manager, and Barb Wenrich and Lori Coldren typed the many pages of copy. On this page the other staff members are pictured.

Betsy Snyder and Mike Althouse, freshmen; Kim Klader and Tom Barnhart, sophomores; Mike Roseboro and Heidi Klingsman, juniors; and Brad Fichthorn and Beth Hurst, seniors, comprise the Crystal Christmas Court.

The theme of the 1984 Talon is theatrical productions. Each of the divider pages corresponds in some way to the theme — the director's chair for seniors, a gym locker (dressing room) door for sports, cartons for faculty, etc.

I have had the opportunity to work with a very talented and hard-working staff this year. My Co-Editor-in-Chief, Becky Eberly, has been a tremendous help in the way of organizing picture-taking sessions, layouts, write-ups and captions, and much, much more.

Lori Wise has done a terrific job of maintaining the business end of the yearbook. Her duties included typing, the layout of the ad section, and the management of the club's funds. Lori's helpers included Barbara Wenrich and Lori Coldren.

Other members of the staff who contributed their time and skills to the success of the yearbook were Peggy Barnhart, Jenny Boyer, Kim Ernst, Beth Hurst, Missy Mohn, Piia Silvennoinen, Michael Schlegel, Denise Windham, Jacquie Young, Joanne Eberly, Tammy Fry, Lisa Horning, Marci O'Brassill, Debbie Rice, Debby Showalter, and Carol Weaver.

I would also like to thank our advisor, Mr. Brensinger, for all of his time contributed to the yearbook, his talent, and his expertise. You're a great teacher and advisor, Mr. B! Don't pull any more disappearing tricks.

Our title page and divider pages are done in artwork which was done by Penny Boose. Thanks, Penny, for donating your excellent talent and time.

Photographs were taken by both Amos Martin and Andy Fetter. I thank both of these wonderful photographers for their time and talent.

Thanks to all the teachers for putting up with class interruptions due to picture taking.

In closing, the yearbook staff would like to dedicate this year's Talon to the memory of all those people who have touched our lives.

Gina Miller
Editor-in-Chief
